your local Certax Accountant is Ewart Holloway FFA/FIPA

With 15+ years experience of running his own company, Ewart really understands small businesses and the administrative burdens they face. He believes a professional accountancy service isn't just about year end accounts, but helping get things done like starting a company, back dating a VAT registration or reclaiming CIS deductions. It's also about being available when customers want to talk or are concerned about something they don't understand. He still knows all his customers personally and firmly believes good record keeping helps minimise the tax a business pays - which is why he is happy to provide a fully integrated book keeping, payroll and accountancy service for all businesses regardless of size.
